

2018 BY THE NUMBERS

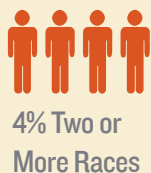

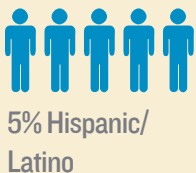

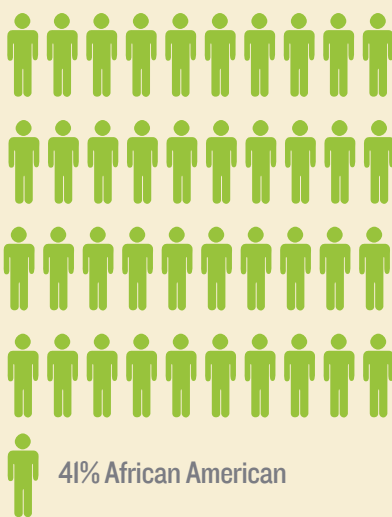

OUR GRANT MAKING AND SOCIAL INVESTMENTS

As of 2018, nearly $117 million of our endowment was invested in housing, community and economic development, as well as increasing access to capital for entrepreneurs of color and innovation in human services technology.

54%

of the Foundation's 184 employees were people of color.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

THE ANNIE E. CASEY FOUNDATION

WHAT WE DO

The Annie E. Casey Foundation works to develop solutions so that all children in the United States can have a brighter future. We tackle this ambitious mission with many partners, using strategies that include grant making, hands-on consulting, policy advocacy, leadership development, research, data and demonstration projects. Here's a glimpse at the difference our investments helped to make for children and families in 2018 in our four focus areas:

FAMILY

Influencing practice and policy in the public and nonprofit human services sectors, especially in child welfare and juvenile justice

Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative® sites have reduced annual commitments to state youth corrections agencies by overall and by 55% for youth of color since they began collecting data.

58%

Child welfare consulting strategies helped reduce group placements by nearly 60%

across four jurisdictions compared to when the engagements began.

More than 4,200

young people transitioning from foster care participated in the Jim Casey Youth Opportunities Initiative's Opportunity Passport® matched savings program, which helps them purchase assets such as housing, cars and education.

OPPORTUNITY

Developing pathways for parents to become financially stable and support their children's healthy development and academic success of the 907 Delaware parents served by a statewide financial coaching program have developed a plan to improve their credit and reduce what they owe.

Partners in the Generation Work initiative, which prepares young adults 18 to 29 for employment in growing industries, engaged more than businesses and served more than 12,000 young people.

Grantees working to reduce debt for families from fees and fines helped eliminate more than

$116,000

in traffic-court debt for residents of three North Carolina counties.

COMMUNITY

Transforming low-income, disinvested neighborhoods into places where kids and families can thrive

At least

90%

of participants in a program to prepare Georgia residents for construction careers have secured jobs.

Four communities served nearly

children with effective programs using Evidence2Success, a framework for communities to identify needs of children and families and select proven ways to address them.

Baltimore universities and hospitals in the Foundation's anchor-institution partnership hired city residents and provided job training and coaching to 2,025 adults.

771

STRATEGIES FOR SCALE

Building capacity to take ideas to scale, ensuring proven approaches are used to improve outcomes for as many children and families as possible

Our KIDS COUNT® Network advocated for policies that led to nearly

$31 billion

in new or preserved state investments and benefited 18 million kids.

24,000

children and young people benefited from 52 programs supported by Casey to build evidence of what works.

Our Results Count™ programs served leaders representing nearly 281 organizations that are contributing to improved outcomes for kids and families.

565
